THE CONSTITUTION AND RULES.

PREAMBLE.

Believing that the principles of the Congregational system of church government are plainly taught in the Scriptures; and believing that system to be better adapted than any other to promote the welfare of the Christian Church; and believing, moreover, that the extension and efficiency of the system would be greatly promoted by organizing a General Association of the Congregational Ministers and Churches of Michigan; we, therefore, to form such an Association, adopt the following

CONSTITUTION.

NAME.

ARTICLE I.

This Ecclesiastical Organization shall be called the General Association of the Congregational Churches and Ministers of Michigan.

OBJECT.

ARTICLE II.

This Association declaring that it will exercise no ecclesiastical control or authority over the ministers and churches belonging to it, assumes for its object to promote Christian fellowship among its members; to obtain and disseminate information relative to the churches throughout the State, our country and the world; and by prayers, counsels and faithful efforts, to advance the cause of truth and holiness.

MEMBERS.

ARTICLE III.

Every church connected with a local Conference or Association in the State is entitled to representation in the General Association by its pastor, if a member—made such by vote—in regular standing in some Association or Conference in connection within the State, and by a delegate chosen for that purpose. Any minister, also, who has been made a member by vote of a local Conference or Association in the State, and is in regular standing in such body, is a member of the General Association, and being present at its meetings is entitled to a seat therein, and a quorum or larger number of such ministers or delegates, together with those made members ex-officio by the rules, assembled according to Article V, shall constitute the General Association of Michigan.

OFFICERS.

ARTICLE IV.

The officers of this Association shall be a Moderator, Assistant Moderator and Scribe, elected annually by ballot, and Assistant Scribe, chosen viva voce at each meeting, and a Secretary, elected triennially by ballot, who shall be the Treasurer of the Association. The duties of these officers shall be as indicated by the designation of their office.

MEETING.

ARTICLE V.

The annual meeting of this Association shall be held at such place as shall have been selected at the previous meeting, and shall begin on the third Wednesday of May, at 7.30 P. M., and not to stand adjourned until after an evening service on the following Sabbath. If any exigency arise which, in the unanimous opinion of the Moderator, Secretary and Scribe, requires an extra meeting of this body, or a change in either the time or place of the annual meeting thereof, it shall be competent for these officers to call such extra meeting, or to make such a change upon giving adequate notice.

QUORUM.

ARTICLE VI.

A number of members equal to one-fifth of the number of churches entitled to representation shall be a quorum for the transaction of business; but at the time and place of meeting a smaller number may organize the body.

XII

STANDING COMMITTEES.

ARTICLE VII.

1. There shall be chosen a Business Committee of six, three of whom shall retire each year in the order of their election, and three shall be chosen annually, one of whom shall be the minister of the church with which the Association votes next to meet. This committee shall cause to be offered to the Association such papers on doctrine, duty and polity, and to present such topics for discussion as they may deem expedient; they shall make arrangements for all the missionary and other public meetings to be held by the Association, and prepare the order of business for each session, placing a docket of the same in the hands of the Moderator; and no business shall be introduced without their consent, except by a vote of the body upon appeal.
2. There shall be a Nominating Committee of three to be chosen by ballot each year in the first business session of the body, whose duty shall be to make all nominations of committees not otherwise provided for. This committee shall elect its own Chairman and Scribe, and shall keep a record of all nominations confirmed by the Association.
3. A Committee on the Narrative, consisting of three, of whom the Secretary shall be one, shall be chosen annually for the ensuing year, to whom the Scribe of each local Conference or Association shall send a written narrative of the state of religion within its bounds as soon as possible after its meeting next preceding the annual meeting of this body, which this committee shall form into a general narrative to be presented to this body; and, if approved, to be published in the Minutes.
4. An Obituary Committee of three shall be chosen annually, who shall make fit report to this Association of the death of those ministers who at their decease were, or long had been, members of the body.

CONFESSON.

ARTICLE VIII.

We believe:—

1. In the One Supreme God, the Creator, Preserver, Sovereign Ruler and Final Judge of all; in the Trinity of the Godhead; and in the infinite perfections of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost.

2. In the full inspiration and authority of the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments, as the revealed will of God and our rule of faith and practice.
3. In the apostacy and depravity of our race, and in their consequent need of regeneration and sanctification by the Spirit and truth of God.
4. In the incarnation of God in the person of Jesus Christ, the Supreme Head of the Church, our Prophet, Priest and King; and in his atonement as the only ground of man's salvation, and as sufficient for all.
5. In the eternal purpose of God; and in the substantial and conscious freedom of man.
6. In the election of true believers; and in their perseverance through faith unto salvation.
7. In keeping the Lord's day as the Christian Sabbath; in baptizing believers and their children; and in observing the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.
8. In the resurrection of the dead; in the final judgment; in the eternal life of the righteous; and in the eternal punishment of the wicked.

NATIONAL COUNCIL.

ARTICLE IX.

This Association, appreciating the fellowship of the churches, and the need of comprehensive plans for advancing the Redeemer's Kingdom, will be represented by delegates in the National Council.

AMENDMENTS.

ARTICLE X.

This Constitution may be changed or amended at any regular meeting of the Association, by a two-thirds vote of the members present, provided the intended change or amendment shall have been proposed in substance at the previous meeting.

RULES.

12. He shall have charge of all moneys belonging to the Association, and shall disburse the same as this body shall direct. He shall annually report the condition of the Treasury, and shall give an estimate of the expenses for the ensuing year. His annual compensation shall be two hundred dollars.

13. COMMITTEES.—A Financial Committee of three shall be chosen annually, who shall audit the Treasurer's account and apportion the expenses of this Association to the local Conferences or Associations, according to their number of church members respectively.

14. Members of committees holding over from year to year shall be ex-officio members of the Association during their term of office.

15. CORRESPONDENCE.—Any member of this Association, if present at the meeting of any corresponding body, shall be authorized to represent the Association therein. For his certificate this rule shall be sufficient; and he may report to this body at its next annual meeting.

18. SUSPENSION OF RULES.—Any of these Rules, except the Nineteenth, may be suspended for the time being by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

19. AMENDMENT OF RULES.—Any motion to alter, establish, or annul permanently any rule of this body, shall be read on two different days, and may be debated at each reading. At the first reading the question shall be: Shall it be read a second time?

Ministerial Relief Society.

Rev. W. B. Williams, Treasurer of the Ministerial Relief Society, presented the annual report of that Society. The report was adopted and ordered to be printed in the Minutes.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE MICHIGAN CONGREGATIONAL MINISTERIAL RELIEF SOCIETY, MADE TO THE GENERAL ASSOCIATION OF MICHIGAN, AT ITS ANNUAL MEETING IN FLINT IN MAY, 1886 :

This Society had on its list of beneficiaries during the past year six families. Two members of these households have passed away during the year. One of them, a widow, has received from this Society in all $280.86, and but for this aid would have been compelled to go to the Poor House, for she had no relatives who could relieve her.

With the exception of the two who have passed away, our list of beneficiaries will be the same this year as last, with the certainty that every year will add to the infirmities, and to the wants of those that remain. One of these is an aged widow, who has been bed-ridden for years, and a great sufferer. If the necessities of these families should not increase at all during the year, we shall need not less than $500. If, in any family, there should be unusual sickness, more will be required.

At the last meeting of this Association the treasury had been overdrawn $9.97. The receipts since have been $436.29, and only seventeen churches gave anything. $135.24 came in from private parties.

The disbursements for the year have been $417.17, leaving a balance on hand at this date of $9.15. The expenses of the Society for administration have been $1.42, or about a third of one per cent. of the money received.

The churches of this State have contributed for this cause as follows:

In 1883-----	$284 55
" 1884-----	495 05
" 1885-----	496 33
" 1886-----	436 29

There would have been a great falling off in our receipts if a gentleman had not quietly sent us $100.

The sum needed for the comfort of these aged saints is but trifling when divided among all our churches. What is needed is a constant dropping of small sums into the treasury. If every church would send to the Society one of their communion service collections each year, it would probably be sufficient. Will not this plan commend itself to all our churches? Shall it not be done?

This report has been read to the Board of Trustees, and approved by them, and to it the auditors append the following report:

This certifies that we have examined the accounts of W. B. Williams, Treasurer, down to this date, and compared them with the vouchers and find them correct.

A. O. BEMENT, }
 E. F. GRABILL, } Auditing Committee.
 C. A. GOWER, President.
 W. B. WILLIAMS, Secretary.

Amendment to the Constitution.

The consideration of the amendment to Article VII, Section 1, of the Constitution, proposed at the last meeting of the Association, by Rev. C. O. Brown, was postponed until next year. The amendment is as follows:

1. There shall be chosen each year a Program Committee of five members, one of whom shall be the minister of the church with which the Association votes next to meet. This committee shall cause to be offered to the Association such papers on doctrine, duty and polity, and to present such topics for discussion as they may deem expedient; and they shall make arrangements for all the missionary and other public meetings to be held by the Association; and it shall be the duty of this committee to provide for at least one hour of miscellaneous exercises each day of the session.

2. There shall be a Business Committee of three members, one of whom shall be the pastor of the church with which the Associa-

The articles of incorporation, as proposed at the last meeting, and recorded in the proceedings of 1885, pages 38 to 41, Appendix D., were adopted.

Use of Tobacco.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the use of tobacco is both physically and morally detrimental, and that its sale or gift to minors should be prohibited by legislation.

Resolved, That this Association respectfully, but earnestly, request the legislature of Michigan, at its next session, to enact such prohibitory legislation.

Resolved, That the Moderator of this body appoint a committee of one to present this resolution of request to the legislature at its next session.

Rev. A. B. Allen was appointed as such committee.

Notice of Amendment to Constitution.

Rev. John P. Sanderson gave notice of an amendment to the Constitution, to be considered at the next annual meeting, viz: In Article VII, Section 3, omit all words before "the Scribe," etc., in the third line, and substitute for the words, "this committee," in the seventh line, "to the Secretary, who," and insert after the word "form," in the eighth line, the words, "these narratives."

Your Committee on Mormonism report the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we, the Congregational Churches of our General Association of Michigan, express our hearty sympathy with all governmental measures looking to the civic suppression of the Mormon iniquity which has rooted itself in our body politic; and we also earnestly deprecate any apparent abatement of the present aggressive policy of the administration.

2d. That to the radical cure of this evil, other than governmental measures are necessary; and, therefore, we heartily recommend the work of the New West Education Commission and kindred agencies, and urge our churches to help on this important Christian work.

(Signed)

WM. H. DAVIS,
ALEX. R. MERRIAM.

Resolved, That, as in the past so to-day, the Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers stands unequivocally upon the Word of God in denouncing the awful sin and shame which through the use of intoxicating drinks have cursed the world from the days of Noah until now.

Resolved, That we bless God for the grand army of faithful laborers which in growing numbers has been raised up along the centuries to oppose in various methods this stupendous crime, and especially for the large success which in our own land and time has attended the efforts of noble men and women in instructing the young, reclaiming the fallen and protecting society.

Resolved, That as Christians and philanthropists, we renewedly pledge ourselves that, according as God gives us grace to see the way, we will not cease to labor and pray for the time when throughout our broad land not only shall prohibition be established by legislation or constitutional provision, but also and especially when the united sentiment of all good people shall conspire to make efficient this and all righteous legislation.

Christian Education.

The report of the Committee on Christian Education was submitted by Rev. George H. Wilson, and was ordered printed in the Minutes.

Your Special Committee on Education present the following as its report:

It calls attention to the fact that it was created in view of the anxiety with which the Association looked upon the apparent decline in ministerial education as shown in the diminished number of candidates for the ministry, and of beneficiaries of the American Education Society. It recognized the necessity of an educated ministry, and that, to a large extent, the want had been met by the continuous beneficence of this Society. The dependence of our churches, in their home and foreign work, upon its continuance and support was declared, and it was declared that the time had come when the claims of the Society should be presented more fully to our churches, and collections of money taken for it.

It was also declared desirous that the churches be made acquainted with the nature and object of the Society as a means of directing the attention of young men to the Christian ministry. It was deemed the duty of our churches to make our contributions equal, if we can, to the amount of money yearly expended in the State by the Society. Such, in general, was the action of the Association, and its direction to the Committee.

With each of these utterances the Committee report itself in profound sympathy. The Society has on its list of beneficiaries, at present, nine from our State. These have received during the year six hundred dollars, while the churches have contributed nearly that amount.

The cause has been presented through the Beacon, by a circular statement and autograph letters sent through this Committee to nearly all the churches, and by the agent of the Society for Ohio and Michigan. About twenty churches have contributed to the cause, and some have placed this among the causes to be assisted by an annual collection. Otherwise the appeals have been treated with respectful silence.

In seeking to discover the feeling of the churches relative to the cause, your Committee have found a questioning on the part of some as to whether that thoroughness of education which the Society seeks to foster does not unfit men for the work of our smaller churches. This is simply that old question of the effect of separating young men from the world far enough and long enough to enable them to pursue a full course of study, plus the question of what constitutes the best kind of an education for the ministry. Whatever tends to educate our young men from, rather than toward the people in their sympathies and powers of adaptation is to be regretted. It does not belong to your committee to more than recognize the fact of an objection to the Society thus raised, and reply that it belongs to the Colleges and Seminaries, and not to the Society, to right it.

The Society recognizes the possession of scholarship sufficient for membership in our Seminaries as the educational qualification for aid from its treasury. If our Seminaries fail to find a place for those whose course of study must be abridged, and from that fact are inadequate to meet the wants of the churches, that in no sense lessens the need of a class of men who shall be fully armed and equipped with the very best training that can be given.

A careful study of the requirements of our Seminaries on the one hand and the policy of the Society on the other, will probably satisfy most minds that the Society takes a middle course. It does not use the money committed to it in assisting post-graduate students, but it may use it in assisting under-graduates and married men.

Yet it aims, as in duty bound, to furnish a ministry equipped with the mental discipline which our Colleges and Seminaries combine to give. So far then as the feeling alluded to relates to this Society, it has very little, if any meaning, while its real worth cannot be ignored by a ministry so large a proportion of whom have been the recipients of its aid. The objection means far less when we consider that the genius of our churches permits the ordination of a man to the ranks of the ministry by act of council.

If the trouble lies in the fact that the larger churches absorb the men educated under the fostering care of the Society, then the want is more men than these churches can absorb.

Instead of supplying the few for the large churches should we not enter all our churches and search out such as seem fitted by nature and encourage them to enter the ministry by the path of the wisest and most thorough course possible?

In view of the conditions thus referred to, your committee heartily recommend that the nature and work, as well as the needs of the American College and Education Society, be presented to the churches by the pastors, even if not deemed wise to press for a collection, but the pastors arrange some plan by which any who wish may contribute to the work.

Your Committee would heartily commend to the churches Rev. T. Y. Gardner, the agent for the Society for Ohio and Michigan.

Above all would we lay it upon the hearts of this Association to pray as never before that the Lord of the harvest send more laborers into the harvest.

In behalf of the Committee,

GEO. H. WILSON.

Definition of Statistical Terms.

The Committee on Definition of Statistical Terms submitted the following report, which was adopted:

Your Committee to whom was entrusted the task of preparing a definition of the term "Absent Members," and the term "Benevolences," report as follows:

That they have given the matter their careful attention, and yet have not been able to prepare definitions which are ideally perfect, or that will cover all the cases which may arise in our churches. But they do think that the definitions, which they hereby offer, if understood and followed by the churches, will help to make our "statistics" more clear, and so more trustworthy.

Your Committee would define "Absent Members" as follows:

Absent Members are such as have removed their residence beyond the natural limits of the parish in which the church is located for one year, from which, however, the following persons should be excepted: Such as are away at school or college, such as are on extended journeys, and such as are temporarily absent engaged in some work, nursing the afflicted, etc.

The Committee would present the following as their definition of "Benevolences:"

The term "Benevolences" should embrace all gifts to the cause of Christ outside regular church maintenance, such as to our recognized denominational benevolent societies and Christian educational institutions, provided always that such gifts shall have passed through the hands of the treasurer or treasurers of the church, or have been reported to him or them at the time for record; and that all other gifts should be tabulated under the head of "Other Benevolences," or "Special Benevolences."

Your Committee would recommend the adoption of these definitions by the Association, and that the Secretary of this body be instructed to send copies of the same to all the churches of the State.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

R. W. WALLACE,

Chairman of Committee.

Resolved, That our thanks are presented to the pastor and members of this church in whose house of worship our sessions have been held; to the committee who provided for our entertainment with much painstaking, thus contributing to our comfort during the meeting.

Resolved, That our especial gratitude is due to the citizens of this beautiful city, who have welcomed us to their homes, and large hospitality during our stay.

Resolved, That we recognize our obligations to the choir, who have so efficiently led our service of praise, to the Presbyterian church for the use of their chapel, to the press of the city and to the railroad companies for courtesies extended to us, the former in reporting our doings, and the latter in the reduction of rates on the various roads.

The pastor, Rev. L. B. Platt, responded in brief remarks and pronounced the benediction, and the Association stood adjourned sine die.

B.

REPORT ON STATE OF THE CHURCHES.

The Associational year ended with the 31st of March. There has been a most gratifying progress during the year. The material and spiritual interests alike have been fostered, and possibly the record of no previous year would show as marked progress in the various departments of church activity. The membership of the churches has received a net gain of about 1,100, which is largely in excess of the usual increase. The last three years has shown an upward movement in this respect. The total membership in 1882 was no larger than it was in 1878; in 1883 there was a gain of 552; in 1884 a gain of 721; in 1885 a gain of 440, and this year of 1,100 or more. Our membership now approximates 20,000, and is increasing annually in much grater ratio than is the population of the State. This result indicates a spiritual interest in many sections of the State. Some of the churches received accessions of 50, 75 and 100, and a larger number than usual report accessions of 25 and above. It is worthy of note that the gain of more than 1,100 members has been due, in a large measure, to the revival influence felt in many of our churches, and for this result the services of our brother evangelists deserve most grateful recognition. All of these brethren have done good work. Mr. L. P. Rowland's labors have been greatly blessed in the churches, and he has received the uniform and hearty commendation of the pastors with whom he has labored. Two churches disappear in the Scribe's reports; the church at Ganges, in Kalamazoo Association, and the church at North Johnstown, in the Olivet Conference. But thirteen churches have been added to the roll, viz: Ashley, Athens, Berlamont, Chippewa Lake, Eastport, Gilead, Harper Avenue, Hayes, Horton's Bay, Hay Lake, Leonidas, Rockwood and Watervliet. The total number of churches enrolled is 280. Some other churches have been provisionally organized, but are not as yet enrolled. The development of the material interests has also been noticeable. New churches have been erected or secured at Ashley, Bangor, Breckenridge, Chester Station, Hartford, Leonidas, Leslie, Nashville, Pine Grove, Water-vliet and Wolverine; while a large number of the churches have remodeled and repaired their church buildings. A few parsonages have also been erected. Eight of the churches which have been dependent on home missionary aid have assumed self-support, viz: Cadillac, Douglas, Frankfort, Grand Haven, Lake Linden, Reed City, Wacousta and Delta.

The benevolences of the churches have also been well maintained. The maximum figure of $52,000, which was reached last year, is likely to be exceeded this year; while the contributions for home missions are greater than ever before; the other benevolent causes do not appear to suffer any diminution in their receipts from our churches.

The organization of Societies of Christian Endeavor, which was inaugurated a little more than a year ago, has prevailed more largely during the year, and has been resultant of great good in calling the young Christians into personal activity and in increasing the number of conversions. Possibly, for this reason, the report made last year that nearly 100 of the churches did not report a single addition on confession of faith does not need to be repeated this year, but that 50 or more still exist is cause for humiliation and for serious self-examination by these churches.

There are slight evidences of a little greater permanence in the pastoral relation. Though there are frequent changes, the length of pastoral service is slightly on the increase. Several of the pastors, after a service of years, have given emphasis to the need of longer pastorates by being formally installed.

The Conferences in order present the following results:

Cheboygan Conference.

The Cheboygan Conference has received three churches into its fellowship during the year, one at Eastport, one at Horton's Bay and one at Hayes. Two others, one at Iron-ton and one at Omena, have been provisionally organized, but are not as yet added to the roll. There have been no churches dropped from the roll, but one or two are very feeble. The older and stronger churches of the Conference are especially prosperous. Several valuable additions have been made to the pastoral force of the Conference. One of the most encouraging evidences of growth and permanent prosperity is the erection of houses of worship. A few years since few of these churches were housed, now all but four worship under their own roof, and of the remaining four, two or three will build during the coming summer. The twenty-one churches are grouped together into twelve parishes. The churches at Charlevoix and Vanderbilt have been blessed with a revival. Cheboygan has secured a permanent pastor, and rejoices in the prospect of fruitful labor. Eastport, though only ten months old, has begun to build.

Chippewa and Mackinac Conference.

The reports from this Conference are too meagre to tabulate results which will be of very great value. Only two of the church clerks have responded to the scribe's appeal for information. Newberry has been without preaching for eight months, owing to the illness of the pastor. St. Ignace has prospered under the pastoral care of its new pastor. A new church, Hay Lake, has been organized. The returns so far as received, indicate about the same numerical strength as last year. A new church edifice has been erected at Pine Grove. The advent of a general missionary in this section of the State is likely to give a new impetus to the work of this Conference.

Eastern Conference.

The Eastern Conference again takes the lead as the largest of the Conferences by the addition of the new churches at Harper Avenue, Detroit, and Rockwood. The question of dividing the Conference is being considered. The reports from the churches reveal a wide diversity in their spiritual condition. The Detroit churches report an increase in membership of seventy-two, but the remaining churches of the Conference report a loss of thirty-six, making a net gain of only thirty-six. The growth in many parts of the State has not been shared by this Conference. One-third of the churches fail to report a single accession on confession of faith. The Trumbull Avenue and Woodward Avenue, Detroit, churches added largely to their membership; the First church, Detroit, has reduced its membership by a careful revision of its roll. Imlay

City, Memphis, New Haven, Royal Oak, Flat Rock and Rockwood, report revivals of great interest. Eleven of the churches are pastorless. The churches at Bruce, Lexington, Nankin, Ray and Port Sanilac have little more than a name to live. Orion and Oakwood are greatly depressed. Rochester and Armada are suffering from dissension. Port Huron, Romeo, Chesterfield, and other churches report substantial progress. Port Huron has greatly improved its house of worship, as has also Pontiac, which is recovering from the difficulties of the past and is prospering. The church at New Baltimore manifests an awakened interest. The benevolences of the Conference aggregate more than $19,000, an advance of $6,000 over last year.

Genesee Conference.

While not without severe trials to some of the churches, the past year has been, as a whole, one of considerable advance in several lines of church work. A church has been organized at Ashley, and with its pastor has united with the Conference. Houses of worship have been finished and dedicated at Breckenridge and at Grand Blanc. In the latter place a house and site that did not accommodate the congregation were abandoned for a new site and a new house, dedicated with no debt to provide for at the close. The building at Alma, long waited for, is moving slowly toward completion. Two other churches propose to build the coming season.

Several of the churches report seasons of refreshing more or less extensive, notably that at Breckenridge, where an extensive and sweeping revival was conducted by the pastor, aided a part of the time by evangelist J. D. Potter. A total of 425 additions on profession is reported with a net gain of 281, upwards of eleven per cent. on last year's members.

With two exceptions the churches are supplied with pastors. Twelve of these churches have been served by the present pastors less than one year. On April 1, 1886, the average duration of pastorates in thirty-four churches was a little less than one year, nine and one-half months.

A gratifying advance of several hundred dollars in home missionary gifts is reported.

Genesee Conference has long been the largest in the State in territorial extent, and for two years in the number of churches.

This fact led to action at last for the formation of the new Saginaw Conference out of the northern part, having its southern limits near the south line of Saginaw and Gratiot counties; but the formation of this new Conference was not consummated till the present month.

Grand River Conference.

The religious condition of most of the churches of this Conference is encouraging. The additions by profession are considerably larger than for the previous year. While a few churches are weak and in a state of depression, other weak churches show an increase in vitality. In nearly all good spiritual work is in progress. Ada 1st and 2nd, Alpine and Walker, Bradley, Cannon, Cannonsburg, Hudsonville, have enjoyed a season of revival. Allendale, Alpine and Walker, Eastmanville and Lamont report special interest in the Sunday school. Six of the churches are without pastors. Paris hopes to build a house of worship during the summer. The Grand Rapids churches all show signs of progress. The First church has had a gain of twenty-four members. Her mission efforts are admirably sustained, the newest of them rapidly developing and becoming another stronghold in a hitherto neglected part of the city. The Second church is making sure progress amid peculiar difficulties. Her membership is increased by eleven, and numbers 100. The South church has enjoyed an awakening under the lead of Mr. Harry Sayles. It is about to move its building to an adjacent lot and enlarge, to accommodate its growing numbers. The Conference has increased its membership by eighty-six. Its benevolences aggregate $3,421.07.

Grand Traverse Conference.

The Grand Traverse Conference shows a substantial growth during the year. It has a net gain of 98 in its membership, the largest per centage of gain made by any of the Conferences. The churches at Frankfort and Homestead report large accessions. Traverse City has had a prosperous year and has remodeled its church edifice. Benzonia and Onkama are building houses of worship, and Homestead and Gilmore are planning to build. Empire is feeble. Joyfield is virtually dead, though not formally disbanded. Most of these churches are poor, and consequently the benevolences are not large, but are in excess of the sum secured last year.

Jackson Conference.

Jackson Conference, as usual, reports a steady growth. It has had a net gain of 64 in membership, and an increase of more than $3,000 in its benevolences. Most of the churches have had large accessions to their numbers, notably the churches at Ann Arbor and Chelsea. Chelsea, Napoleon, North Leoni and Ypsilanti have enjoyed a season of revival. Leslie has become self-supporting and has dedicated its new edifice free of debt. Summit expects to build during the coming year. None of the churches are without a pastor. The total benevolences of the Conference are $9,682.50.

Kalamazoo Association.

The Kalamazoo Association has added four new churches to its roll, viz: Athens, Berlamont, Leonidas and Watervliet, making 31 churches in all, and is discussing the question of a division of the Association. Remarkable progress has been made the past few years among the young churches in the western part of the Association. The church at Bangor, three years of age, has dedicated a beautiful church at a cost of $2,500, and finds its work growing; Douglas, also but three years old, has become self-supporting. Hartford, organized less than two years ago, has dedicated a beautiful church, and has had encouraging growth. Watervliet, organized January 23, 1885, dedicated its church building on the 3d of February, free of debt. Benton Harbor is planning to build. Leonidas has also secured a house of worship. Only four of the churches are without pastors. The churches at South Haven, Three Oaks and St. Joseph all report religious interest and many conversions. The entire Association has enjoyed spiritual quickening and growth. Augusta is pastorless and discouraged, and Keeler is feeble. Kalamazoo hopes to be supplied with a pastor at an early day. The fruits of the religious interest in this Association are seen in the net gain of 358 members, and a substantial gain in the benevolences.

Lake Superior Conference.

This Conference comprises only the three churches of Calumet, Hancock and Lake Linden, but each year manifests increasing vigor and usefulness. The churches maintain a steady growth. The membership of these churches has increased 62, and the benev-olences have aggregated $2,636.09. The church at Hancock have greatly enlarged and beautified their church edifice; the church at Calumet are also remodeling their church. Lake Linden, organized a little more than two years ago, has become self-supporting, is preparing to build, and has contributed nearly $400 to benevolences.

Lansing Association.

Growth and substantial prosperity have marked the history of these churches the past year. Extensive revivals of religion have occurred in Greenville, Sheridan and Delta, and revivals of lesser note have blessed several other churches. In some cases the membership has been increased more than an hundred per cent., while the additions to the whole exceed that of the previous, perhaps of any previous year. The church in Sheridan, strengthened by a remarkable work of grace, has entered upon the work of church building. Portland has been relieved from a long-standing and troublesome debt. Lansing awaits in expectation the coming of its pastor-elect, and is ready for effective work. The benevolences of the churches show a decided gain over last year. The holding of Sunday school institutes in connection with the meetings of the Association has become an established practice, and its results appear in a deepened interest and a greater efficiency in this department of church work. No changes in pastorates have taken place within the year.

Muskegon Association.

There has been a general change of pastors in this Association, only four of the pastors of last year still remain. The year has been marked with general religious interest. There has been a decided gain in the number of additions on confession, but the net gain of membership in the Conference is only 16. The benevolences have decreased in the larger churches, but have proportionately increased in the smaller churches. Grand Haven and Nawaygo have completed their main audience rooms within the year, and Grand Haven has assumed self-support. Shelby has improved its house of worship. Olive, Robinson, Fruitport and Nunica are weak, but show some growth.

Northern Central Conference.

The church at Chippewa Lake has been added to the roll. The material interests of the churches of this Conference have been greatly advanced. Cadillac and Reed City have assumed self-support; Clare has purchased a parsonage; Chase has enlarged its church building. Tallman is weak and has suffered by the decline of the lumbering interest. There has been a marked religious interest in some of the churches. Cadillac, Chase, Clare, Reed City and Manistee have had large accessions. The net increase in membership is 52. The benevolences show a large increase and aggregate $4,420.96.

Olivet Conference.

There has been no marked growth in the churches of this Conference during the year, though there has been a general prosperity. A house of worship has been erected at Chester Station, and those at Bedford, Ceresco and Vermontville have been repaired. The Sunday schools are especially prosperous, and Societies of Christian Endeavor are a helpful auxiliary to the church work. North Johnstown is stricken from the roll. There is a decrease in the total membership of 49, and a slight decrease in the benevolences.

Southern Michigan.

The church at Gilead has been added to the roll. The new church at Addison has doubled her membership and has commenced building a house of worship. Clinton has enlarged the parsonage. Five of the churches are without pastors. There has been an accession of 109 to the membership of the churches, and a net gain of 43. The benevolences have been well sustained, and an advance was made in the contributions to home missions.

NECROLOGY.

REV. ROBERT G. BAIRD died at Lansing, Michigan, August 4, 1885, after a long and painful illness. Brother Baird was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1832, and came to Canada at the age of ten years. He graduated from the Theological Institute at Toronto at the age of twenty-five, and at once accepted a call to the pastorate of the Congregational church at Sarnia, Ont., opposite Port Huron. There he speedily gained a remarkable hold upon the young men of his congregation, and did good service for the Master. In 1862 he removed to Armada, Michigan, where for thirteen years he was the useful pastor of the church in that place, and where the fruits of his labor and the blessing of his memory remain. In 1874 he was appointed Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture and removed to the seat of the Agricultural College where he resided to the close of his life. At this place his influence among the students was constant and helpful, and his death greatly regretted by the faculty and students. A widow and four children remain to mourn our brother's loss.

REV. DANIEL BIRNEY, of Port Sanilac, died December 31, 1885, aged eighty-five years. He was a native of Ireland. The time and place of his ordination are unknown to the writer. He removed from his native land to Canada when about thirty-five years of age, and spent several years in the service of the Wesleyan Methodist churches. On coming to this State, about 1856, he entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church in which he labored with acceptance and success. His connection with our denomination and his residence in Port Sanilac began in the year 1861. He served the church in that place eleven years, during a great part of this period having charge also of the little church in Bridgehampton, which he gathered, and doing a large amount of missionary work in other outlying districts. In 1872 failing health constrained him to withdraw from the active work of the ministry, but his heart remained in the work, and whenever he was able he joyfully proclaimed the glad tidings of great joy. His last sermon was preached but two weeks before his death. Brother Birney was a man of limited education, but having good natural abilities and being full of faith and zeal and persevering industry, he made his life useful and honorable to the Master and the churches.

REV. SAMUEL FLEMING, LL. D., Ph. D., died at his residence in Burr Oak, Michigan, December 24, 1885. Dr. Fleming was born in Romulus, Seneca Co., N. Y., May 9, 1816, hence was, at his death, sixty-nine years of age. At the age of fifteen he joined the Presbyterian church in his native village, of which his father was a ruling elder. His residence in Michigan began in 1835, when, in company with a brother, he bought a farm near Jackson. His stay here, however, was but brief, for two years later we find him a student in Geneva College. From early childhood Dr. Fleming was a lover of music, and possessed rare musical gifts. The earlier years of his youth and young manhood were more or less occupied in the teaching of music, both vocal and instrumental. Leaving Geneva College he became Professor of Literature and Principal of the Academic Department in Central College, near Columbus, Ohio. After holding this position for a time, he studied at Western Reserve College. The next year was spent as Principal of the Academy at Aurora, Ohio; a year later he became "Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy" in what was then known as Marshall College, at Marshall, this State. It was here that Bro. Fleming was ordained to the work of the ministry in December of 1847, and here that he filled his first pastorate. His subsequent pastorates were at Manchester, Homer and Decatur, where he was instrumental in the erection of a house of worship; at Morenci, Erie, Burr Oak and Crown Point, Indiana. At Morenci he lost wife, health and property. Prevented from continuing in the active ministry, Bro. Fleming gave himself up to literary work. His most important works are: "Science and Philosophy," "Recent Progress in Science," and a work of three volumes, entitled "Pandualism." His contributions to magazine and newspaper literature were too numerous to find record in this sketch. They covered almost every topic of science, art, social science and religion, and found ready publication. Mr. Fleming was also to some extent a composer of music, and tunes written by him may be found in the books of such publishers as Root & Woodbury. Bro. Fleming was highly respected by those with whom he came into association and tokens of such respect were liberally bestowed upon him. He was for a time clerk of the Synod of Michigan; was delegate to the General Assembly at Buffalo, N. Y., in 1853, and again at Philadelphia in 1863. He was made a member of the American Anthropological Association, and was for years one of its vice-presidents. From this body he received the honorary degree attached to his name. Mr. F. was a member of the "American Association for the Advancement of Society," and a Fellow of the "Society of Science, Literature and Art," of London, England. Our brother was twice married, first at Sandusky, Ohio, in 1841, to Mrs. Juliet Fleming, his brother's widow, who died, as we have said, at Morenci; and a second time to Miss Irene C. Farley, in 1869, who survives him. Mr. Fleming, as we have seen, was born of Presbyterian parents, became a member of the Presbyterian Church at the age of fifteen; from this church received his ordination and spent a great portion of his life within its fold. He came to our fellowship in 1863, and enjoyed peculiar regard from his brothers of the Southern Michigan Conference.

REV. FREDERICK FLEMEN was born in 1860, at Stoke, Devon, England. He grew up under religious influences and commenced preaching the gospel at the early age of 16, under the direction of the Wesleyan Methodist Conference in England. He prepared himself for Hulme Cliff College, Derbyshire, England. In October, 1885, he came to Michigan, where he served the Congregational Church at Rockford, after which he had a short but successful pastorate at Grand Ledge. His health failing him, he returned to England and died on the 31st day of December, 1885.

REV. WM. H. FOWLER died February 25, 1886.

At Grass Lake, Michigan, February 8, 1886, died, the REV. THOMAS JONES, in the 73d year of his age. Mr. Jones was born upon shipboard on the Atlantic ocean, while his parents were on their way from Wales to settle in this country. The early years of our brother's life were spent in New York, and it was then that he was converted and began his preparation for the ministry. His parents being poor, it was necessary for him to support himself, and to his own energy, industry and economy alone was he indebted for his education. He prepared for college at Oneida Institute, pursued his collegiate studies at Hamilton, and his theological course at Oberlin Seminary. He began preaching at the age of eighteen years. At twenty-one he married and settled first in Ohio, where he worked six years. His ministry in this State began with the church in Grass Lake in the year 1841, where he remained six years. He was pastor of the First Church in Grand Rapids for several years; at Cassopolis four years, and at Galesburg eleven years. This was his last pastorate; following it he spent four years as financial agent of Olivet College, and the remainder of his days, as his health would permit, in assisting in special services and otherwise serving the churches. In this kind of labor he rendered himself very useful and his closing years were full of joy—for the joy of his life was to see souls converted and the churches of Christ strengthened. One who knew him well writes of him: "Mr. Jones was an earnest and effective preacher, often presenting divine truth with a clearness and power that the hearer could not readily forget. He was an active pastor, and was possessed with such an overflow of good nature and genial cordiality, as rendered him an agreeable visitant in the families of his parish. Very many have been led into the true life by his labors of love in their behalf. His last illness was long and painful; for several months he was in constant suffering. His nerves were shattered and his mind unbalanced. We have to look for proofs of his faith in his works while in health, rather than in the experiences of his last sickness, so mysteriously does God sometimes deal with his people." Those of us who knew Bro. Jones will not question the fitness of the text selected by Rev. John Patchin, who, when a boy, sat under his preaching, for use on the occasion of his funeral: "And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

REV. WM. H. OSBORN was a native of Marcellus, Onondaga Co., N. Y., born August 26, 1811. His father was a soldier for six years during the war of the Revolution, and served also during the war of 1812. The subject of this sketch was converted at the age of seventeen years and joined the Freewill Baptist Church. His preparatory studies were pursued at the Academy in Rochester, N. Y., and his theological studies, under the direction of old ministers, as was the custom for poor boys in those days. He married Lucina Crandall, who, with several children grown to manhood and womanhood, still survives him. Mr. Osborn was ordained in October, 1839. For ten years he preached in N. Y. and Ohio, when he removed to Michigan. He served short pastorates in Marshall, Castleton and Syria with Free Will Baptist churches, after which he joined the Congregational Church and settled in Coloma, Berrien Co., where he organized a church and labored four years. During this time he also organized the church in St. Joseph, and supplied it in connection with Coloma, and also looked after the church in Keeler. Bro. Osborn then removed to Vicksburg, where he held a series of meetings, which were greatly blessed in the conversion of men. A church organization resulted from this special work, and to this new church our brother gave three years of successful work. He went from Vicksburg to Parkville where he labored two years, enjoyed revivals and left the little church of sixteen members with an increase of one hundred members. From this place he went to Webster City, Ia., found a church of six and after two years' work left it with forty members. Returning to Michigan, he labored three years at Grandville; at Augusta, Washtenaw Co., seven years, and at Hartland and Tyrone two years. At the latter place special revival interest was developed under his preaching and a church was organized. Failing health soon made it necessary for him to retire from active service, and after a long and severely painful illness he died at Lowell, October 28, 1885, aged seventy-four years and two months. The great object of his life was to bring souls to Christ, and in this work he was successful; hundreds were converted under his ministry, and four churches organized by him remain in vigorous life to perpetuate the work to which he so heartily gave himself. The love and faith which had ruled his life ceased not to the end. The day before he died he exclaimed: "I feel like singing; my soul is full of glory." Very soon he passed into the real glory of which many foretastes had been given him on earth. His wife and a large family of children remain, with a great company to whom he successfully ministered, to mourn his death.

REV. SAMUEL PHILLIPS was born in the city of Halifax, Nova Scotia, February 16, 1813, and died in Disco, Michigan, July 10, 1885. Left an orphan at a very tender age, his early years taught him to look upward for help and comfort. Though brought up in the Episcopal Church, he was converted while yet a boy and at eighteen was a licensed exhorter of the Methodist Church, in which church he was ordained to the work of the ministry four or five years later. Coming soon to the United States, he enjoyed very successful pastorates among the Wesleyan Methodist at Jamestown, Seneca Falls, Olcott, Rawsonville and Royalton, N. Y. In 1854 he moved to Michigan and preached for several years in Shelby, Macomb Co., where he erected a church edifice and enjoyed repeated revivals of religion among his people. He also had charge of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Pittsfield, Washtenaw Co., for two years. From this place he removed to Salem and took the pastorate of the Congregational Church in that place, changing at the same time his denominational relations. He remained in Salem four years; afterwards he was settled in Lima three years, Leroy four years, and Orion and Oakwood, New Baltimore and Ray each for a brief season. In July 1838 Mr. Phillips was married to Miss C. H. Bodfish, of Wareham, Plymouth Co., Mass. Mrs. Phillips' protracted invalidism caused her husband to retire from continuous pastoral service for years before her death. This enforced retirement was quietly and patiently submitted to by Brother Phillips as a sad providence indeed, but certain to work out a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory. During these years by preaching at the little village near his home and at other destitute points without money and without price, by continual study of the Word and by much prayer, he kept his heart warm with love for the Master and his cause. He delighted in the fellowship of his brethren in the ministry, and such of them as were permitted a visit with him were certain to go away to more highly magnify their office and act more worthily their part in it. The lover-like care and tenderness he bestowed upon the wife of his youth during the long years of her illness remains as a beautiful picture in the memories of all who beheld him in her presence. Mrs. Phillips passed into rest in January, 1883. In March, 1884, Mr. Phillips married Mrs. M. A. Shaddock, of Salem, Mich., who survives him. One writes of our departed brother: "His uncompromising advocacy of truth combined with godliness and sunniness, prepared one to reverence him as a lineal descendant of 'the man of God' of ancient times;" and another: "He was always a most consistent Christian and one of the sweetest spirited men I ever knew." With these tender and appreciative tributes all who knew him will agree, and by such his memory will be held in grateful reverence.

REV. PORTER B. PARREY, who was born in Wethersfield, Wyoming Co., N. Y., in 1815, died on Tuesday of this week, aged seventy-one years. Bro. Parrey graduated at Union College, and afterward at Auburn Theological Seminary in 1846. He came immediately west and began his life work as a Home Missionary by preaching one year at Little Elkhart, Indiana. The next year he settled at Buchanan, where he remained as pastor of the Presbyterian Church until 1852. At this place the wife of his youth was called from his side by death. He next removed to New Buffalo and supplied the Congregational Church of that place for one year. From there he went to Ellsworth, Conn., where he preached four years. In 1857 he came to Illinois, and for seven years was settled in a country parish twelve miles from Rockford. During the war he was for a short time in the service of the Christian Commission. In the spring of 1864 he came to Three Oaks, Mich., which has been, in a sense, his home ever since. During his pastorate here the church building was erected, and other good work accomplished. Hersey, Mich., profited by two years of faithful labor at his hands, and has reason to cherish his memory. Later he established a church at Bridgman, Mich., and erected there a church building. His last charge was of the church at Sandstone, Mich., where he remained only a year and a-half, and then, because of failing health, made his final return to his home at Three Oaks, just one year before his death. His last illness was of only five days duration, and although conscious to the last, did not seem to recognize the approach of death. His life, however, was so abundant in the fruits of the Spirit that we have no need of a dying testimony. The ministry of our so recently translated brother was characterized by great faith and earnestness, and attended by frequent revivals. He was a good preacher, a faithful shepherd of the flock, and a careful leader. His hold upon the young by constant connection with the Sabbath school work and in other ways, was strong and effective. At the same time strong men of the world felt his power, and with gratitude to-day acknowledge benefits received from his influence.

Many such business men were converted under his preaching, and the Christian upbuilding of many others was largely helped by his life and teachings. The funeral of this good man occurred at Three Oaks on Thursday of this week. Memorial services will be held to-morrow morning at the same place, when a more worthy narrative of his life and work will be given. Mrs. Parrey and two children mourn the loss of an affectionate husband and father. The son and daughter in their character and lives testify to the faithfulness of our brother in his home relations, as well as in his more public walks and duties. The daughter has for some years been a teacher in one of the A. M. A. schools in Atlanta, Ga., while the son is a useful helper in the home church. The members of this body, as well as the churches to which he has ministered, join in unfeigned sorrow with the family over the death of this man of God.

HOME MISSIONS IN MICHIGAN.

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE GENERAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 31, 1886.

Ten churches were organized by Home Missionaries during the statistical year, viz: Chippewa Lake, Mecosta Co.; Berlamont, Van Buren Co.; Leonidas, St. Joseph Co.; Eastport, Antrim Co.; Gilmore, Benzie Co.; Ashley, Gratiot Co.; Horton's Bay and Ironton, in Charlevoix Co.; Pierport, Manistee Co., and Hay Lake, Chippewa Co. The Independent Church at Athens, was also recognized by council and received into the Kalamazoo Association. The average membership of the eleven new churches thus added to the roll, was twenty-four. Six of these new churches have houses of worship, or are engaged in building. All of them are in fields which we had previously occupied, or were included in our estimates, as made up a year ago for our meeting at Jackson. The only new field which we have entered during the year, that is, the only one not included in our estimates presented a year ago, is Montmorency Co. Rev. D. H. Pierce has been preaching at five places in that county since October last, and expects to organize one or more churches in a few weeks. Rev. E. W. Miller, the State Sunday school superintendent, organized three Sunday schools in that county last summer, and it seemed important to follow up his work by sending a missionary to gather churches and build houses of worship.

Eleven churches have secured houses of worship during the year, viz: Wolverine, Leslie, Pine Grove, Breckenridge, Hartford, Chester Station, Bangor, Leonidas, Watervliet, Ashley and Nashville. The house at Nashville has been used by the Congregational Church since the date of its organization, but they have now acquired a title by an amicable arrangement with the sister denomination which built it. The value of these eleven church buildings is $21,300. The Home Missionary churches at Bancroft and Clare have secured parsonages.

Nine churches became self-sustaining during the year, viz: Cadillac, Douglas, Frankfort, Grand Haven, Lake Linden, Reed City, Vicksburg, and Wacousta and Delta. The last two are yoked under the care of the same pastor. The year has been one of spiritual growth and ingathering. There have been more than five hundred additions to the churches on profession of faith.

The receipts from Michigan for the year have been $14,434.99, of which $117.65 was a legacy. The contributions of churches and individuals have been $14,317.34, which is $2,007.72 more than they were last year. This large increase of contributions is immediately due to a special effort which was made at the beginning of the winter. Rev. A. T. Waterman, of Ovid, suggested a special offering as a memorial for Mrs. Fannie L. W. Warren, the president of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of Michigan, who died November 22nd last, whose love and service were freely given to the home missionary work of the State. This suggestion was heartily seconded by The Beacon and the editors of the Home Missionary, and was approved by your State committee. The amount of memorial offerings so far reported is $3,296.12. This total from the State of $14,434.99 includes of course the $2,730.97 contributed by the Woman's Home Missionary Society. We came short by $1,565 of the $16,000 which we voted to raise last year at Jackson. Instead of the dollar per resident member which we resolved to secure, we raised eighty-nine cents a member. The year before we raised seventy-eight cents a member. Is it too much to hope that next year by faithful and united effort we may secure the full amount of one dollar per resident member throughout the State?

Including the nine churches which became self-sustaining during the year, there were grants to one hundred and one separate fields which, were made or in part paid during the year. Of these one hundred and one grants, nine were one hundred dollars or less in amount, eighteen were more than one hundred dollars, and not exceeding two hundred, thirty-five were more than two hundred dollars, and not exceeding three hundred, thirty-two were more than three hundred dollars, and not exceeding four hundred dollars, five were grants of more than four hundred dollars, and not exceeding five hundred, and two fields received aid during a part of the year at the rate of more than five hundred dollars. There is now no grant in force of more than five hundred dollars a year. The entire salary of the missionaries on these one hundred and one fields averaged $584. Of course we have not had 101 missionaries in service at any given date during the year. There are eighty-six home missionaries at work in the State to-day; and this is as large a number probably as we have had at any one time during the last two months.

You will remember that the apportionment made to Michigan a year ago by the national society was fifteen thousand dollars in addition to all that we might raise among ourselves, and we were fairly warned that under no circumstances would we be allowed to overdraw our apportionment. The apportionment the year before had been $18,000 and we had overdrawn it about $5,000. This year we did not quite use up our apportionment of $15,000, actually drawing only $14,671.71. But this sum which we drew from the treasury of the national society is a little larger than the whole amount raised within the State, so that for every dollar we gave for our own work, the Christian people of New England and New York gave a little more than another dollar to help pay our missionaries in Michigan. While our Christian brethren at the East are doing so much for home missions in Michigan, it would ill become us not to be willing to make some sacrifices for the feeble churches of our own household and for the planting of churches in the newer parts of our great commonwealth.

There has been no death among the missionaries during the year. There have been many changes. Some have ceased to be missionaries, because their churches have assumed self-support. Some have gone to other States, or to self-sustaining churches in our own. Their places have been supplied in part by pastors of other Congregational churches in Michigan or elsewhere; and fifteen new recruits have entered our ministry as Home Missionaries during the past year. No one of the fifteen was a graduate of any of our theological seminaries. Two of them had been a little time at Oberlin and one at Chicago. Four of the fifteen came from the farm or shop or the teacher's chair, and eight came from other denominations. There was one Episcopal Methodist, one Wesleyan Methodist, one Free Methodist, two Methodist Protestants and two Free Baptists. A few men were also secured from other denominations for our self-supporting churches. About half of the ministers who are members of this General Association to-day, have at some time belonged to another denomination. It is becoming that we should be the most catholic of the denominations.

We cannot depend upon the theological seminaries to train the men needed for Home Missionary work. However well the seminaries may succeed in fitting men for the work of the American Board, for professorships in colleges, for pastorates of city churches, or as specialists in various departments of literature and science, they do not train the men needed for the smaller churches and new fields. Your committee beg again to urge upon your attention, as we have done heretofore, the need of a training school to fit for the ministry the large number of men who are strongly inclined to preach, but who, by reason of their age or their poverty or family responsibilities, cannot come into the ministry through the ten years course offered by our colleges and theological seminaries. The Lord calls many men to preach, for whom a college and seminary course is impracticable; and if we could find a way to help these men into the work with such preparation as may be practicable for them, we should not long be in want of good men for our Home Missionary fields. Our traditional methods of training practically close the door to the ministry against many men who would gladly come in, and who, as experience shows, might be very useful. Let us once for all recognize the fact that the majority of the men whom God is to-day calling and bringing into the Congregational ministry in the United States, do not come by the way of the college and the seminary. We have taken great pains to smooth the way into the work for the minority who come by college and seminary; but we have done nothing to help into the work the growing majority who come from other sources to recruit our ranks. While we pray the Lord of the harvest to send forth laborers into his harvest, let us act in the line of his providence. Let us begin here in Michigan a training school to fit for Home Missionary service the great number of men who would be glad to come, if they could receive a practical training in a reasonable time, but who cannot take the traditional ten years course of preparation. Bangor has practically become such a special school. Of its twenty-eight students, but two have a college degree. Bangor supplies the men for the smaller churches of Maine. Without this school many of these churches must die. There is great and growing need of such a school in Michigan. Your committee respectfully and urgently request that this subject of a Home Missionary training school be referred to a special committee to report during this meeting.

We have a brother from Sweden on our missionary roll, Rev. Gustaf Lundquist, pastor of the Swedish mission church in Manistee. There are a hundred thousand natives of the German Empire in Michigan. Is it not time that we had at least one German missionary?

Rev. Abram Van Auken, who has served faithfully and successfully as general missionary for Northern Michigan for nearly two years, has lately felt constrained on account of health and from other considerations, to accept a pressing invitation to a pastorate which has been some months waiting for him. He has been instrumental in helping many little churches to secure houses of worship, to pay debts, and to attain to more successful work. Rev. E. D. Curtis, of Saugatuck, has been appointed to succeed him.

The necessity of a general missionary for the new work is apparent to all. Help is also often needed by our older missionary and other smaller churches, whether with or without pastors. At the last meeting of the Eastern Conference, a committee of five reported unanimously in favor of employing a general missionary to labor among the smaller churches of that body. The Conference deferred action, hoping that the object aimed at will be secured by the appointment of a State missionary or evangelist. The same need for evangelistic and general missionary work which is felt in the Eastern Conference, is apparent also in the Southern Conference and the Kalamazoo Association, and the older parts of the State generally. Other States have felt this need. The Illinois Home Missionary Society is employing three State evangelists, and has demonstrated that the money used to sustain them has brought more help to the little churches than it could have done if spent in any other way. The Ohio and Iowa Home Missionary Societies are employing State evangelists and are much pleased with the plan. The American Home Missionary Society has commissioned missionary evangelists for Kansas and Minnesota. After long and careful consideration of the subject your committee are unanimously and heartily in favor of employing a general missionary who shall give his time mainly to evangelistic work, and to the visitation and service of the smaller churches in all parts of the State, and especially in the older conferences. Secretary Tompkins, of Illinois, says: "We have in this evangelistic work an efficient method of bringing weak churches to self-support. The great need of many of the churches that now ask help from the home missionary treasury is not more financial ability, but more spiritual life and power. In several cases the visit of an evangelist has entirely removed the idea of asking aid to support a pastor. The people have consecrated themselves and their property to the service of God, and have easily arranged for sustaining the whole work of the church. Pastorless churches have been led to secure the services of a minister of Christ. In some cases weak, discouraged, and pastorless churches have not only rallied and called a pastor, but have at once made provision for his entire support." He also adds, "The success of the work in Illinois is such that all who know anything about it would most heartily recommend it. Aside from the large amount of good done to the churches which it is difficult to tabulate, thousands have been led to Christ. Since the appointment of the three evangelists whom we now have in commission, we have increased our contributions to home missions fifty per cent. This could not have been done without the help of these consecrated men. We guarantee the salary and instruct the evangelist to take collections, thank-offerings, etc., and secure as much as possible. Our men have averaged year by year, the collection of about two-thirds of their salary. This includes visiting the most destitute fields, explorations, etc. The revival work conducted has more than paid all that it has cost and left a fund for use in the other work named. We commission only successful Congregational pastors who have an adaptation to this special work. This experience of Illinois, confirmed by that of other States, seems to make it clear that we ought not longer to defer the employment of a missionary evangelist.

But the stress of our Home Missionary effort must still be for the newer counties of the North. There are eighty-two counties in Michigan, and there are twenty-two of them, having a population of 155,000, in which there is no Congregational Church. There are eight other counties, having a population of 100,000, in each of which there is but one Congregational Church. There are more than a quarter of a million people in these thirty counties, and only eight Congregational Churches. In a few of these counties there is no church of any name. We are hardly aware of the extent of our field and the measure of its destitutions. By the State census of 1884, the population of Michigan was 1,856,000, and growing at the rate of 55,000 a year. Adding the growth of the last two years, 110,000, we have 1,966,000, the population in 1886. We shall have more than 2,000,000 before the General Association meets again. North of this city of Flint, our State contains nearly, or quite, a million of people to-day. The Congregational Churches of our country have no other Home Missionary field in any other State of such extent and promise as this in Northern Michigan. Kansas comes nearest to it; but in the degree of religious destitution and the promise of sure and quick return for missionary effort, our field is more important and more inviting than Kansas. The Home Missionary part of Michigan, north of our centre of population, is equal to two Nebraskas or three Dakotas, or four Colorados, or to these ten States and Territories of the great West: Alaska, Washington, Idaho, Wyoming, Montana, Nevada, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico and Indian Territory. These ten contain a far smaller population than that part of Michigan north of this city. There are fifty counties in Michigan still in the process of settlement, in every one of which are needed additional churches of Christ as centres of life and light for the incoming people. To aid in planting these churches as they are needed is a work which belongs, first of all to us, as citizens of Michigan and members of Michigan churches. Hitherto the churches of New England and New York have given far more than we for the evangelization of our noble State. It is time to take this work upon ourselves. The needs of other parts of our great country and of other lands are so great that we ought not to be willing to absorb here a dollar, if we can avoid it, of the gifts of the churches of the East. Who should care for the Christianizing of Michigan and the saving of her people, if not we of the churches of Michigan?

It is one of Dr. Emmons' striking sayings, that "Parents in general can do more for the promotion of general good of society by giving their children a good education than in any other way." Christian parents will, of course, have interest in Christ's cause outside their own homes, but the highest service they can render that cause will, nevertheless, be to train their children to Christian manhood and womanhood. In like manner while we give and pray for Christ's cause in all the world, our churches in Michigan can do our best work for the world's conversion by making Michigan a thoroughly Christian State. Michigan's annual average rate of giving to the American Board has more than doubled within less than ten years. If we are faithful to our home work, before 1896 it will more than double again, and our Michigan churches will be giving at more than twice their present rate annually for the American Board. If we had not planted the Home Missionary church in Chelsea thirty-five years ago, the American Missionary Association would not have received just now a legacy of $4,000 from a member of that church. If we had not planted a Home Missionary church in Manistee in 1862, we have no reason to think that a member of that church would this year have given Oberlin $50,000. Christ's kingdom in all the world is one. If we can build strongly for Christ here in the new counties of Michigan, while society is still forming, the effect of our work will very soon be felt and seen in Asia and Africa, and the islands of the sea. Every dollar we put into Home Missions in Michigan this year, will shortly yield many dollars yearly for all departments of missionary work at home and abroad.

By the coming of nine churches to self-support, by the reduction of grants to many others, by refraining from new work, by deferring grants, or making them for three or six months instead of a year (carrying over into the new year obligations which should have been met out of last year's resources), and by leaving some missionary churches unsupplied, we reduced the total cost of the home missionary work in Michigan last year $6,815.22; and by the increase of our gifts we reduced the net cost to the national society $8,621.09—a long march, a forced march toward State self-support. We kept well within our apportionment of $15,000; the actual cost of the work to the national society was $14,667.71, in addition to Michigan's contributions. Forced marches are sometimes necessary; but if the strain be too severe, the soldiers throw away their knapsacks, overcoats and blankets, and sometimes their cartridge boxes and guns, or even drop themselves out of the ranks altogether. The national society does not wish to bring Michigan to self-support by forced marches. They would not have us give up our feeble churches that can really be helped to do Christ's work, but rather strengthen them. They would not have us refrain from planting needed churches in the twenty-two counties where we have none, or in the thirty other counties in which we have but few. This year the national society has consented not to make any reduction in the apportionment to Michigan. They propose to grant us the same amount as last year, $15,000, in addition to what we raise in Michigan. They do this to help us make some large and worthy advance in our work in Northern Michigan, a home missionary field unsurpassed in importance by any other in the country, and calling more urgently than ever before for help.

The A. H. M. S. believes that Northern Michigan ought to have the Gospel. They entrust us with this $15,000 this year to help us evangelize this grand field. The great Head of the church entrusts us with this noblest Home Missionary field in the country to possess it and till it for him. If any body of churches in the United States have reason for gratitude to the Lord Jesus for a noble opportunity to work for him—if any churches in this land have motives for Home Missionary devotion and sacrifice, it is our churches here in Michigan. In all earnestness let us resolve to make this year one of advance and noble achievement in Northern Michigan. With all the help we are receiving from the East, it will be shame to us if we do not.

THE WOMAN'S HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF MICHIGAN.

This society was organized at Charlotte, May 20, 1881, at the annual meeting of the Congregational Churches of Michigan.

The officers elected were: President, Mrs. Leroy Warren, of Lansing; Treasurer, Mrs. E. F. Grabill, of Greenville; Recording Secretary, Mrs. A. N. Pitman, of Middleville; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. T. P. Prudden, of Lansing. Conference presidents were appointed.

A constitution was adopted, and it was voted that the society undertake to raise the sum of $500, to supplement the amount that the Home Missionary Society is trying to reach.

The First Annual Meeting was held May 18, 19, at Greenville. The treasurer's report showed the receipts of the society for the year to be $33.55.

It was voted to furnish Rev. Wm. Curry, Home Missionary at Bay Mills, in northern Michigan, a horse and its equipments, because it was so difficult for him to walk to meet his widely separated appointments.

The President and Treasurer were re-elected. Mrs. W. S. Bugbey, of Middleville, was elected Recording Secretary, and Mrs. J. B. Porter, of Lansing, Corresponding Secretary.

The Home Missionary Auxiliaries organized the first year were: North Adams, Tawas City young ladies, Laingsburg.

The Second Annual Meeting was held at Manistee, May 18, 19, 1883. Addresses were made by Superintendent Leroy Warren, Rev. J. B. Clark, Rev. G. D. Pike, Rev. W. G. Puddefoot; and W. E. Latham, of White Cloud, presented $10 to the society as a memorial to his wife, who had died a month before.

A letter from Mrs. Z. Eddy, of Detroit, was read, recommending that the society contribute its receipts to the support of Rev. W. G. Puddefoot, as a missionary in the Upper Peninsula, and the society voted to adopt the recommendation of Mrs. Eddy.

Report of Treasurer showed the receipts to be $190.50 cash, coming into the treasury of the society.

New auxiliaries were reported at Middleville, Clinton, Litchfield, St. Joseph, and Columbus.

Mrs. R. G. Peters, Mrs. Emma Latham and Mrs. A. S. Packard were made the first three life members of the society by the payment of $10 each.

Mrs. M. E. B. Green, of Olivet, was elected Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. N. W. Nelson, of Manistee, Recording Secretary, and the President and Treasurer were re-elected.

The Third Annual Meeting was held at Port Huron, May 23, 24, 1884.

The receipts of the year coming into the hands of the Treasurer were $933.65.

Dr. Alden, of the American Board, addressed the meeting.

A. E. Winship, of Boston, presented the cause of the New West Education Commission.

Rev. W. G. Puddefoot made a report of his missionary work in the Upper Peninsula.

It was voted that the society support Mr. Puddefoot a second year.

Thirteen members pledged themselves each to pay five cents a week for the support of a woman teacher among the Mormons in Utah.

The officers remained the same, except that Mrs. E. D. Kelsey, of Almont, was chosen Recording Secretary.

The Fourth Annual Meeting was held at Jackson, May 22, 23, 1885.

The Secretary's report showed that the auxiliaries were increasing in membership and gifts. And she remarked that if societies and individuals would more generally send their contributions to the Treasurer of the society, instead of to New York, the women of Michigan would have more credit for benevolence.

The Treasurer reported that $1,045.25 had come into the treasury of the society during the year.

Mrs. M. B. Norton, late of Dakota, made an address in behalf of Home Missions. Dr. Roy, of Chicago, spoke in behalf of the American Missionary Association. Mrs. McDougal presented the claims of Straight University at New Orleans. Mrs. Green, of Olivet, made report of work in Utah.

It was announced that the ladies of the First Congregational Church of Detroit, would pledge $200 for the Home Missionary cause, and $100 for the New West Education

The society resolved to aid the Home Missionary Society, the New West Education Commission and the American Missionary Association.

Mrs. S. L. Ballentine, of Port Huron, was chosen Recording Secretary. The other officers were re-elected.

The Fifth Annual Meeting was held at Flint, May 20, 22, 1886. Mrs. O. H. Spoor, of Charlotte, presided at the first sessions.

After devotional exercises, an address of welcome was given by Mrs. S. B. Holman, of Flint, in behalf of the ladies of the city. An appropriate response, in behalf of the society, was given by Mrs. Geo. M. Lane, of Detroit.

Mrs. M. E. B. Green, Corresponding Secretary, presented a report, which gave, in addition to the statistical returns, interesting and valuable information concerning the needs of our own State as a field for the society's efforts.

Mrs. E. F. Grabill, Treasurer, reported that the total cash receipts from all sources were $2,743.78, of which $1,671.56 came into the treasury of the society.

The meeting was addressed by Rev. Mr. Schaufler, of Cleveland, who has in charge the evangelization of the immigrant population in our cities. He was of Bohemian nationality, and told of the new work of women for the Slavic women, Bohemians, Poles and Hungarians.

Rev. Walter M. Barrows, of New York, one of the secretaries of the A. H. M. S., made an address. The receipts of the society had been, during the year, larger than ever before in Michigan, Ohio and in nearly all the other States, and so the society had been enabled to enlarge its work. In this country is a vast foreign population to be fitted for good citizenship. It is in the moulding stage; shall the form in which it hardens bear upon it the image of Christ?

Miss D. E. Emerson, Secretary of the woman's department of the A. M. A., spoke of three distinct departments of work, for the Indians, the poor whites and the blacks. She referred particularly to the work among the young, and requested the society to help one school.

Rev. Simeon Gilbert, of Chicago, spoke in behalf of the New West Commission and its work for women in Utah and New Mexico.

Fraternal greetings were exchanged with the M. E. District Home Missionary Society also, then in session in the city, response being made by Mrs. S. B. Holman, of Flint.

A half hour memorial service was given to the memory of Mrs. Leroy Warren, late president of the society, who died Nov. 22, 1885. And at another hour resolutions in her honor was adopted.

A tribute of respect to the memory of Mrs. T. P. Prudden, the first Corresponding Secretary of the society, was also adopted.

The constitution of the society was amended.

Rev. Leroy Warren, Superintendent of Home Missions in Michigan, made an interesting and instructive address upon Home Missionary work in the Upper Peninsula. The stress of our Home Missionary work must still be for the newer counties of the north. To aid in planting churches, as they are needed, is a work which belongs first of all to us, as citizens of Michigan and members of Michigan churches.

The Committee on Plan of Work made recommendations, which were adopted: That the society should endeavor to raise the sum of $4,000 during the coming year, to be expended as follows: $1,200 for the support of a general missionary in Northern Michigan, $1,000 for the establishment of new churches in the Upper Peninsula, the remainder to be for the support of a State evangelist for labor among Home Missionary churches, and for the general fund of the A. H. M. S.; also that each local society be requested to contribute five cents a member to meet incidental expenses of the society.

The Committee on Resolutions presented a report, which was adopted: Tendering thanks to Mrs. Grabill and Mrs. Green, to the pastor and people of the First Presbyterian Church of Flint, to Rev. J. P. Sanderson, editor of the Beacon, and to Mrs. O. H. Spoor, who had kindly served the society as president pro tem.
